Message from the Presidents

Dear Guest,

On behalf of the Executive Councils of the Society of University Surgeons (SUS) and the Association for Academic Surgery (AAS), we are delighted to welcome you to the 10th annual Academic Surgical Congress (ASC).

For those of you who may be unfamiliar with the history of our meeting, the ASC began 10 years ago as little more than an idea – an idea that the world of academic surgery needed a venue for the interchange of ideas and cutting edge research in a format that was collaborative and inclusive. Prior to our joint meeting, each of our two sister societies met separately at different times in the academic year, and while the content of each of the individual meetings was first rate, the attendance at each meeting was variable. To address this threat to each of our societies, the SUS and the AAS formed a partnership in order to develop a joint meeting with a shared program committee and joint scientific sessions. Ten years later, it is safe to assert that the results of this effort have been nothing less than spectacular. Attendance at the annual meeting has grown each year, and the quality of the presentations and richness of the content have led the Academic Surgical Congress to be considered as the premiere event for academic surgery in the country. We hope that you will agree with this assessment.

As we welcome you to this year's meeting, we warmly invite you to make the most of your time with us. The program committee – led by Kasper Wang, MD of the SUS and Caprice Greenberg, MD, MPH of the AAS – have developed an outstanding curriculum that covers the entire spectrum of the surgical sciences, from cutting edge bench research to quality outcomes and education based topics. We also invite you to attend each of the Presidential Sessions, which include talks from icons in the surgical sciences and next generation genetic approaches to surgical care. Finally, and perhaps most importantly, we hope that you will develop new friendships and collaborations, and hope that these new relationships will enhance our shared goals of performing quality research and providing improved patient care.

Warm wishes,

AAS PRESIDENT

Timothy Pawlik, MD, MPH, PhD

Professor of Surgery and Oncology
John L. Cameron M.D. Professor of Alimentary Tract Diseases
Chief, Division of Surgical Oncology
Program Director, Surgical Oncology Fellowship
Director, Johns Hopkins Medicine Liver Tumor Center
Multi-Disciplinary Clinic

SUS PRESIDENT

David J. Hackam, MD, PhD, FACS

Chief of Pediatric Surgery
Johns Hopkins University
Robert Garrett Professor of Pediatric Surgery
Surgeon-in-Chief
Bloomberg Children's Hospital
Johns Hopkins Hospital

In recognition of the 10th Anniversary of the Academic Surgical Congress (ASC), which brought together the Association for Academic Surgery (AAS) and the Society of University Surgeons (SUS) to sponsor a unified meeting, the AAS, SUS and their foundations have created a new joint AAS/SUS Academic Achievement Award. Please join us in celebrating 10 years of fantastic collaboration by joining in the "10 for 10" campaign. The proceeds of this campaign will support this exciting new joint AAS/SUS Academic Achievement Award. Demonstrate your ASC pride with a tax deductible gift of $10, $100 or $1,000!

- $10: Celebrating this year!
- 10 x $10: Celebrating the present and the past!
- 10 x 10 x $10: Celebrating the past, the present and the future of the ASC!

Each dollar given will be matched one for one by AASF Past President, Max Schmidt, MD, PhD, MBA, up to $10,000! Now that's something to celebrate!

Mission Statements

The Academic Surgical Congress is organized by the Association for Academic Surgery (AAS) and the Society of University Surgeons (SUS). Their respective missions are as follows:

AAS: To stimulate young surgeons and surgical scientists to pursue careers in academic surgery and support them in establishing themselves as investigators and educators; to provide a forum for senior surgical residents, fellows and junior faculty members to present papers on subjects of clinical, laboratory or educational research; and to facilitate the development of young surgeons and surgical scientists as investigators and educators. Its additional mission is to inspire and develop young academic surgeons.

SUS: To advance the art and science of surgery by (1) the encouragement of its members to pursue original investigations both in the clinic and in the laboratory; (2) the development of methods of graduate teaching of surgery with particular reference to the resident system; (3) free and informal interchange of ideas pertaining to the above subjects.

Educational Objectives

After participating in this educational activity, attendees will be able to:

1. Identify important research and clinical advancements relating to topics within academic surgery, including oncology, trauma, critical care, pediatrics, vascular, cardiothoracic, gastroenterology, transplant, education, emerging technologies, global surgery, clinical trials, outcomes, and health services research;
2. Develop an understanding of current issues in the advancement of the art and science of surgery;
3. Improve treatment strategies for surgical patients;
4. Discuss the latest basic science, translational, and health services research and the expected impact of these breakthroughs in future patient care;
5. Review the newest technologies that facilitate improved outcomes in surgical patients.

CME Accreditation

This activity has been planned and implemented in accordance with the Essential Areas and policies of the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education through the joint sponsorship of PESI, Inc., and the Academic Surgical Congress (ASC). PESI, Inc. is accredited by the ACCME to provide continuing medical education for physicians.

PESI, Inc. designates this live activity for a maximum of 22.75 AMA PRA Category 1 Credits™. Physicians should claim only the credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

Disclosure Procedure

It is the policy of the Academic Surgical Congress (ASC) and PESI, Inc., in accordance with the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (ACCME), to ensure balance, independence, objectivity and scientific rigor in all CME activities. Anyone engaged in content development, planning or presentation must disclose all relevant financial relationships with a commercial interest producing health care goods or services; and who also has the opportunity to affect the content of CME about the products or services of that commercial interest. All presenters are also required to disclose any usage of investigational use or off-label products. Disclosure information will be provided to participants prior to the meeting in the final program.
